24.5 Severance Pay

In addition to the notice provided for in Clause 24.2, an Employee terminated in accordance with this clause shall be entitled to the following payment:

- (i) Four (4) weeks severance pay.

Such time off shall be arranged in consultation with the departmental manager.

24.8 Employees with Less Than One (1) Year's Service

26. Dispute Settlement Procedure

The objective of this procedure is to promote the resolution of disputes by measures based on consultation, co-operation and discussion and to avoid interruption to the performance of work and the consequential loss of production and wages.

In the event of any dispute, the following procedure will apply:

- 26.1 The matter shall first be discussed between the Employee(s) with their immediate supervisor.
- 26.2 In the event of failure to resolve the dispute, the matter shall then be referred to a management representative and an appropriate Union Representative and/or Officer of the Union, who will confer and attempt to reach a settlement.
- 26.3 If the parties are still unable to resolve the matter, it may be referred to the Industrial Relations Commission of NSW.
- 26.4 Whilst the procedure is being followed, work shall continue in accordance with existing custom and practice. No party shall be prejudiced as to the final settlement by the continuance of work in accordance with this clause.
- 26.5 Sensible time limits should be allowed in dealing with the problem/dispute, with the parties maintaining regular contact.
- 26.6 Clause 25, Safety Procedures, will apply in lieu of this clause in the event of a dispute arising concerning an alleged unsafe or unhealthy practice.

27. Disciplinary Process

27.1 The purpose of having a disciplinary process is to provide a manager with a means of advising and discussing with an Employee any perceived deficiency in their behaviour or attitude affecting not only their work performance but others. The objective is to arrive at an agreed solution.

An Employee is entitled to have the Union Delegate present at any time during the above process.

27.2 In the first instance the manager, will discuss the issue(s) with the Employee concerned, ensuring the Employee is aware of the conduct or behaviour required and be made aware of the consequences should the incorrect behaviour continue. Both parties will agree on appropriate solution/courses of action. The manager will monitor the matter over the following month with the Employee concerned.

27.3 If the Employee's behaviour does not improve following the above discussion, a written warning will be given detailing the problem and required improvement, stating the problem and required improvement, stating what steps have been previously taken and the likely results if the Employee does not resolve the issue(s). The written warning should be signed by the Employee as recognition of having received it. A copy will be placed in their personnel file.

27.4 A final written warning will be issued if the Employee has failed to resolve the issue. Included in this letter is the warning that failure to resolve the issue(s) will result in dismissal. The written warning should be signed by the Employee as recognition of having received it. A copy will be placed in their personnel file.

27.5 If after a reasonable time has elapsed and the Employee has failed to resolved the issue(s), their services will be terminated.

27.6 All documentation relating to disciplinary action taken against an Employee that is filed in that persons personnel file will be destroyed after twelve (12) months provided the issue(s) does not arise within that time frame.
